A real rarity in the U.S.A., these beautiful scarves are among our most popular imports. Each five foot scarf reflects the varied taste of the Ecuadorian woman who wove it in her home. Icelandic Wools

Icelandic sheep have the longest, lightest wool in the world. Brought to the island 1100 years ago by Viking settlers, they have never been crossbred. To adapt to an erratic Arctic climate their fleece has developed the characteristics of two different coats. Long coarse hair at the top protects them from wind, rain and snow. Finer, silkier hair, which grows lower in the fleece insulates against the cold. Icelandic wool is rich in water-repellent lanolin. Its natural colors are white, gray, malt, brown, and black.

Vuarnets

These are the finest sunglasses we have used, whether on ice and snow in the mountains, or trying to drive into a setting sun. The optical quality lenses are precision-ground to stop distortion, then vacuum coated on both sides with cadmium to cut both ultra-violet and infrared radiation. A gradient application of mirror coating cuts out 85% of reflected light at the top and bottom of the lens, and allows 40% of the light to enter through the middle. The dark amber color of the lens, combined with its gradient tint, provides near ideal vision in bright light as well as neutralizing the effects of flat light on the ski slopes. High glare situations, such as sailing, are mitigated by Vuarnets. All frames made of very sturdy nylon.

How to Order Your Boots

Please follow these instructions carefully. The information requested below is essential if we are to fit your boots properly.

1) Put on the socks you intend to wear with the boots. We suggest a thin liner sock with a thick wool sock over that.

2) Stand on a large piece of paper, with your body weight distributed equally on both feet. While standing erect, have someone else draw one clear line defining the perimeter of each foot. It is important that the pencil be held at a constant 90° angle, and not tilted either inward or away from the foot.

3) State your usual dress shoe size. Give both length and width if possible.

4) Write your name, address and shoe size on the paper with your foot outline, as well as on the order form.

GUARANTEED FIT

We guarantee a proper fit. Instructions for trial use of your boots are sent with them. Please observe these directions carefully, as boots worn outdoors are not acceptable for exchange or refund. If the fit is incorrect, send the boots back to us with the coupon provided on the instruction sheet. We will send a new pair of boots to you, postpaid.

6'' Waterproof Boot

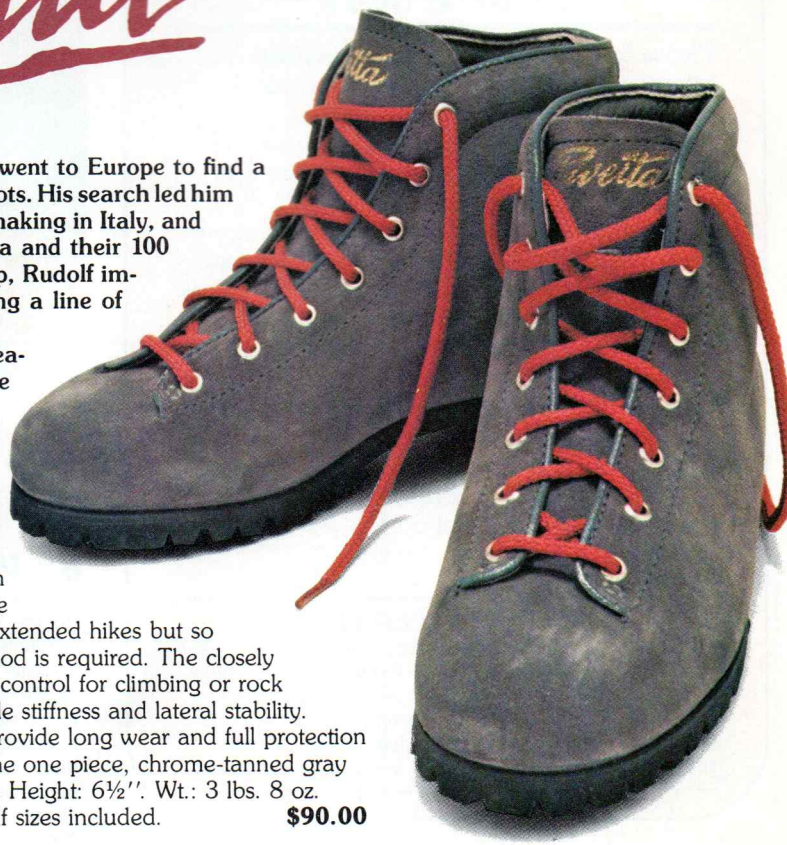
Pivetta



In 1951 George Rudolf, Ski Hut's founder, went to Europe to find a manufacturer of superior mountaineering boots. His search led him to Montebelluna, the center of quality bootmaking in Italy, and the home of Pivetta. Impressed with Pivetta and their 100 year tradition of quality hand craftsmanship, Rudolf immediately began work with them developing a line of hiking boots suited to American needs.

All Pivetta boots share certain quality features, a policy Rudolf set in 1951 to guarantee that every Pivetta boot is the best possible boot for its particular application.

Muir Trail The finest all around trail boot available and the standard against which all lightweight hiking boots are measured. The Muir Trail is strong and durable enough for extended hikes but so comfortable and flexible that no break-in period is required. The closely trimmed sole and narrow profile give precise control for climbing or rock scrambling. The spring steel shank insures sole stiffness and lateral stability. Vibram Roccia one piece lug sole and heel provide long wear and full protection while walking on rough or uneven terrain. The one piece, chrome-tanned gray suede upper is rugged and abrasion resistant. Height: 6½″. Wt.: 3 lbs. 8 oz. (size 9). Sizes: 5-12 XN, 5-13 N, M & W, half sizes included. $90.00

Woolrich Guide Sweater

This is a sweater for cold weather. The tight knit and heavy-weight yarns make the Guide Sweater a real chill stopper. French climbing guides originated the use of the flat knit for its warmth and incredible durability. Woolrich knits its version in 100% Shetland wool with a high lanolin content to repel water. The raglan shoulder and generous arm length afford lots of movement without cold wrists. The bottom is a little longer than usual — to stop the cold before it reaches your back. Gray or tan. Men's sizes S-XL $45.00

Tioga Mountain Parka

Woolrich's classic Mountain Parka design with the substantial added warmth of Thinsulate insulation. The Tioga is less than a pound heavier than a conventional mountain parka, yet is twice as warm. CS 200 Thinsulate in the body and CS 150 in the sleeves provide plenty of cold blocking insulation in this roomy coat. Combine the Tioga with a thick sweater and you are set for the cold wet winter at any altitude. Breast pockets; combination bellows handwarmer pockets; single layer hood folds into collar; drawstring at waist. Navy or gray with contrast piping on cuff.
Men's sizes S-XL. $86.50

Outwest Pile

Pile garments are more versatile than conventional insulated clothing. The 100% polyester fabric has the warmth and low moisture retention of Polarguard, but doesn't require use of inner and outer shells to hold it together. A pile jacket, for instance, may serve as a simple sweatshirt when worn as a single layer, or as expedition gear when worn with thermal underwear and a Gore-Tex shell. Pile is tough, reliable and machine washable. It wicks away body moisture, works when wet and will dry by body heat alone. Outwest Pile will fuzz-up, or pill, less than most pile. Choose from two styles:

a.* Teton A two-tone version with navy body, cuffs, and collar facing with gray shoulders and sleeves. Two pockets.

Athalon Luggage

Today's travelers require versatility in their luggage. A suitcase or hanging bag must take the abuse of airline baggage handlers in stride, look good enough for a city hotel, yet not be so unwieldy that 500 yards up a hill to your cabin is impossible. That is a tall order, but we feel that Athalon fills the bill. You do not often see the Athalon name in catalogs, but you've seen their luggage — Athalon sews a lot of the soft luggage available today. The Escort series is the top of Athalon's line, with all the features and details you could want. The base material is a strong cotton/polyester duck, water repellent and backed with a rip- and penetration-resistant polyester mesh. Critical wear zones are reinforced with sueded cowhide. Each bag is wrapped at least once with seatbelt webbing so it can never be torn apart. The bags also include cowhide wraps on the handles for strength and comfort, shoulder straps, an inside zip pocket, and an outside slip pocket with snap closure. Packing the Escort series is a snap — the bags all have foam padded bottoms and square full-zip openings for easy loading and tidy retrieval of your clothing during a trip. The colors: Navy or rust with tan piping and leather.

Logan by Trailwise

The Logan is Trailwise's standard down parka, and the standard by which other down parkas are judged. Trailwise down garments have always been leaders in quality and value. They use 600 fill power down, as opposed to the industry standard of 500 or 550, giving you a warmer, loftier jacket with less weight and bulk. A computer-controlled down machine insures that a larger proportion of the down is in the upper body, for maximum efficiency. The women's jackets are just that, properly sized for a woman's figure, not just sized-down men's parkas. All Logans have: high down-filled collars; handwarmer pockets; drawcord waist; double pull zipper; down-filled zipper flap.

Mountain Parkas

A sturdy Mountain Parka, with two thicknesses of wind stopping fabric and pockets galore is an integral part of any outdoor wardrobe. Trailwise Mountain Parkas have a 22-year tradition of top quality and innovative features. A Trailwise Mountain Parka becomes an old friend, softening with age as it drapes comfortably along the contours of your body. You can fit a vest or a pile jacket under a Trailwise Parka for a really warm combination — together they are warmer than some down parkas. Women's parkas are sewn on their own patterns to provide a good fit. All Trailwise Mountain Parkas have these important features in common: waist drawstring with toggle; drawstring adjustable hood with bill in front; patch and bellows pockets; two handwarmer pockets; two-way zipper.

Arctic Down Vest

Down is still your best investment for lightweight compact warmth — and nowhere is that more evident than in a down vest. It will fit into our smallest stuffsack, and into the smallest corner of your pack, yet the lofty warmth of a down vest is attested to by any experienced outdoors person. A Trailwise vest includes the high quality details you expect from all Trailwise products. They use 600 fill power down, among the best lofting in the industry. All Trailwise garments have 8-10 stitches per inch, the optimum for strength and resiliency. Cut extra long in the back, to keep the critical kidney area warm when you bend or move. The high collar is stuffed with down and has a Velcro closure that snugs around your neck. Pockets are also plump with warm down. The woman's vest is specially cut for a woman's figure, not just a sized-down men's vest. Down flap over zipper. 65/35 cloth is down-proof and abrasion resistant. Avg. Wt. 13 oz. Avg. Finally, a good looking parka with a style that works for you, not against you. The trim cut Inverness surprises you with its easy freedom of movement. An action pleat on each shoulder allows full-radius arm movements. The elastic powder cuff seals off your lower back, stopping cold drafts before they penetrate. The warm plaid wool/nylon lining is a classic sporting combination with the water repellent 65/35 shell. Trim lines don't mean skimpy insulation for the Inverness. Thinsulate insulation, half the weight and bulk of conventional synthetic fillings with the same warmth, allows the combination of style with function. Thinsulate will not clump, shift, or absorb moisture, so your comfort is assured. The low-bulk warmth of Thinsulate is a marvel you have to feel for yourself. Tacker

An ideal medium weight ski parka for cold windy days. The Thinsulate insulation provides warmth with a trim fit, while the tough 65/35 shell stops the wind. This is a parka for active sports, with a free-moving raglan shoulder, long knit cuffs and an elastic waist. High funnel collar; two zippered pockets. Navy with gray trim.
Men's sizes S-XL. Women's sizes S-L $58.50

Mid-weight Knickers

A perfect complement to the Tacker in weight and style. The blend of 85% wool and 15% nylon gives this Woolrich knicker good insulation value without the heavy weight of an arctic cloth. The excellent fit of these knickers does not inhibit your movement — whether kicking or falling. Double seat and knees; side hip pockets; Velcro knee closure. Navy. Sizes: Men's 28-38. Women's 8-16 $38.00

Yankton

Thoughtful details distinguish this ski-touring pullover from the masses. The kangaroo pocket is doubled — side pockets and a top loader. The collar zips all the way up under your chin, and is faced with knit fabric. Long sleeves and knit cuffs keep your wrists warm even when extended. A full extension is assured by the raglan shoulders. Gray or camel. Sizes:
Men's S-XL. Women's S-L $34.00

Poplin Knickers

Wear these knickers alone for spring skiing on warm days; add long johns and they are plenty warm for all but the coldest winter storms. The tightly woven poplin fabric, a blend of 65% nylon/35% cotton, is a very light weight, but effectively stops the wind. Full length elastic side inserts provide a good fit and plenty of movement. Velcro knee tabs. Navy. Sizes: Men's 28-38. Women's 8-16 $36.00

Patagonia Bunting

The most advanced form of fiberpile available from Patagonia, the leaders in synthetic layered dressing. Bunting is the softest, lightest polyester pile available. And it stretches. That means Bunting garments can be tailored to fit without sacrificing freedom of movement. Bunting is less bulky than standard pile and fits better under shell garments. More and more skiers and mountaineers are adding a fiberpile layer to their cold weather clothing — its practical features make sense for any outdoor activity. Bunting is 100% polyester; it will absorb less than 1% of its own weight in moisture, keeping you warm even when wet. Combined with a shell layer Bunting is an ideal combination of light weight and high-lofting warmth. Bunting worn alone is a pleasant evening chill fighter that provides just the right amount of extra insulation.

Pullover & Pants

This is close to the ideal warm-up. The soft texture of Bunting is a delight against bare skin, while the light weight eliminates that draggy feeling you get from cotton sweats. Bunting is warm, but not too warm, since its open texture allows your skin to breathe as you exercise. Of course the pullover and pants are cut full, for total freedom of movement. Pullover has: 7″ zip collar; knit cuffs; Avg. Wt. 19 oz. Pants have: knit cuffs; drawstring waist; zip rear pocket; Avg. Wt. 18 oz. Gray.

Pile Jacket

The original Patagonia Pile jacket — still the warmest and the fuzziest from Patagonia. The 100% polyester pile dries the quickest, absorbing almost no moisture. This pile is thicker than Bunting, but is not as soft and pliable. The tough outer skin on this pile makes it a great work sweater. High zip collar; two pockets. Tan or navy.
Sizes XS-XL $48.00

Silk

Natural silk is still the warmest thing you can have next to your skin when the temperature starts to drop. There is simply nothing better. Silk wicks away sweat from your skin better than wool; for its weight it insulates better than down; and, of course, nothing feels like silk against your body. The three simple items on the left, with a total weight under 6 oz., can add 15° to your comfort range. A Silk Balaclava compresses to nothing in your pocket, ready to go on when you need it. Yet its compact size fools you — even by itself this mask can be tremendously warm. Worn under a scratchy wool hat, your comfort is doubled. Silk Glove Liners give you the feel of a second skin, allowing dexterity when working without an outer mitten, augmenting warmth under a thicker glove or mitten. Silk Socks stop friction between thick socks and your feet, keep your feet dry by wicking sweat away, and add to your warmth. Of course, natural silk should always be hand washed, line dried, and never bleached.

a. Great Arc Dome

Trailwise combines innovative engineering with traditional craftsmanship in its new two person shelter. Geodesic design allows the greatest amount of functional space with the stingiest use of materials. Tent and fly are self-supporting without guy lines. The load is evenly distributed and the fabric equally stressed throughout to prevent irregular sag in heavy rain or snow. With two more poles than conventional geodesic tents, the Great Arc is exceptionally stable. It has no flat sides to confront the wind, so wind spillage is excellent. The irregular shape allows ample head room in the central area, but minimizes vertical space elsewhere to increase heat efficiency and allow vapor dissipation. 1.9 oz. coated ripstop floor and canopy, coated nylon taffeta fly. All netting is no-see-um. Colors: Light blue or tan canopy with tan side walls and fly. Wt. 8 lbs. 4 oz. $325.00

Gore-Tex

Gore-Tex has arrived. Four years ago we began offering a limited line of rain garments made of this waterproof yet breathable fabric. Since then W. L. Gore & Assoc., the manufacturer of Gore-Tex, has improved its performance. Gore-Tex is now considerably less sensitive to leakage due to contamination from body oils and dirt. Our experience in the past year has shown us that Gore-Tex is performing as expected — it is the ultimate outdoor fabric.

The breathable waterproofness of Gore-Tex comes from the micro-porous layer of PTF, a teflon derivative, laminated between two pieces of fabric. PTF has millions of tiny holes, large enough to pass water vapor, but many times smaller than a molecule of water. The result is a fabric that is tremendously windproof as well as waterproof and breathable. For most of us at the Ski Hut a Gore-Tex parka has replaced both a windbreaker and a rain coat.

We are pleased to offer a wide range of products made with various laminates of Gore-Tex. The layered construction of Gore-Tex offers a durability previously not available in coated waterproof fabrics.

The blankets are reversible, so the pattern can be used with either dark or light shades predominating. Aladdin Lamps

Insulate your home from the malaise of urban life with Aladdin's decorative kerosene lamps. Aladdin's exclusive mantle/burner is the most efficient ever designed: it generates a steady white light that can be dimmed to a soft candle glow or raised to the brightness of a 60 watt bulb. Even at the brightest setting an Aladdin consumes fuel at the parsimonious rate of 50 hours to the gallon. Aladdins are always dependable, whether used as accent lighting or as a primary light source — and they are smokeless, odorless, and silent. Each lamp is supplied with mantle, wick and cleaner. Optional accessories include electric converters.
